Access and Control Newsletter

No 1,
February 2008

The Access and Control Newsletter is produced by the World Health Organization, Department of Medicines Policy and Standards.

The Newsletter provides you with the latest news from WHO on the following issues:

- access to medicines controlled under the international drug treaties
- evaluation of substances for their dependence producing properties

New: Access and Control Newsletter

This is the first issue of the Access and Control Newsletter. This newsletter provides you on both issues of drug control as well as access to controlled substances. The World Health Organization is involved. Generally speaking, the matter related to the evaluation of substances within the framework of international conventions, especially the 1961 and 1971 Conventions, and any other matter related to WHO's Access to Controlled Medications Programme (ACMP)

The newsletter will be published at irregular intervals, but certainly at least once a month.

You are invited to tell others about this newsletter. If you prefer not to be on the mailing list you can ask to unsubscribe at any time (see below)

ACMP Biennial Report 2006-2007

Now available on the WHO/Medicines website: the Biennial Report on Access to Controlled Medications Programme. It gives an overview of the work done during 2006 and 2007. They include those that develop the programme and those that prepare for future activities. Furthermore you will find a list of the products produced in the past two years.
